Franklin Graham: Obama Is 'Shaking His Fist' at God

Franklin Graham, son of evangelist Billy Graham, believes President Barack Obama defied God by changing his stance on gay marriage.

The president has proclaimed his Christian faith several times, and before taking office said he thought marriage should only be between one man and one woman.

Over the years, Obama gradually changed his tone on the issue, finally stating in an interview with ABC News Wednesday that his stance had fully "evolved" to support same-sex marriage.
